New research activity with UniTUS

01 February 2020 - a new and exciting research activity has started in collaboration with UNITUS, the University of Tuscia (Viterbo). Let's have a "good luck" to the whole research team.

Selection of queen bees

March 2020 - In Emilia Romagna, a state-of-the-art region in many sectors, breeders enrolled in the AIAAR have begun to use the Varroa counter for the selection of queen bees. One more tool to select VSH hygienic behavior.

Austria, second year

March 2020 - For the second year, monitoring of Varroa continues throughout the Austrian territory of Varroa through BeeVS. Covid-19 allowing, 8 scanners will be sent to the Biene Oesterreich federation.
